The Fairfield Inn & Suites by Marriott Lake Charles Sulphur Reopens

Now Featuring a Refined and Refreshing New Look

Sulphur, LA – (May 25, 2012) The newly renovated Fairfield Inn & Suites by Marriott Lake Charles has a refined and refreshing new look. The new design combines contemporary style with comfort that guests expect from the Marriott name. The bright and lively color scheme is inviting and inspiring for business and leisure travelers.

"Our new décor is quite impressive and we are confident that if guests stay with us once, they will continue to prefer our hotel for return trips to Sulphur, no matter the reason for their trip," said Justin Foreman, General Manager of the Fairfield Inn & Suites by Marriott Lake Charles Sulphur.

The property temporarily closed in September 2011 to begin the renovation. The property is now full of flexible and functional new features. The new lobby is a bright and open space welcoming guests as they enter with hues of greens, blues, oranges and reds that are carried throughout the hotel. Each guest room features plush bedding with crisp linens. The spacious living space has a large work area with complimentary wireless Internet access, expanded cable channels, and sofa beds to accommodate additional travelers. Other hotel features include a complimentary breakfast, featuring the Jimmy Dean breakfast sandwich, fitness center, indoor pool, and upgraded business center.

The Fairfield Inn & Suites boasts exceptional service and true Southern hospitality. The staff can't wait to pick up right where they left off on June 1, 2012, when they will officially be open for reservations.

"It's very exciting to debut our new look. Guests that have stayed here before will feel like they're in a completely different hotel. It's amazing what has been done here. It's truly refreshing," said Anna Stone, Regional Director of Sales for Pillar Hotels and Resorts, the property's management company.

The Fairfield Inn & Suites brand was established by Marriott International in the late 1980's to offer customers for an economy hotel option. The brand has evolved over the past 20 years, revamping their designs and striving for innovation and comfort better than the previous design. Pillar Hotels and Resorts, a full-service management company based in Irving, Texas, proudly acquired this property and transformed it with Fairfield's newest design generation. Pillar's excellence is based upon their core values: Community, Consistency, Culture, and Communication; all of which they instill in their 222 hotels.
